SUMMER INSTITUTE,

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT, OF CINCINNATI COLLEGE.

An association, with the above title, has been formed for Medical instruction, on an extended plan, during the vacation of the College. The body of Teachers is composed of the following persons, who will lecture and examine on the branches attached to their respectives names:

Dr. Drake, on Physiology and Hygeine.

Dr. Gross, on General and Pathological Anatomy, and Medical Jurisprudence.

Dr. Rogers, on Chemistry.

Mr. Riddell, on Botany and Pharmaceutic Chemistry.

Dr. Rives, on Obstetrics, and the Diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Dr. Wood, on Materia Medica.

Dr. McDowell, on Anatomy and Surgery.

Dr. Harrison, on the Theory and Practice of Physic.

The Lectures, to be delivered in the College Edifice, will commence on the first Monday of April, and continue, with a vacation through the month of July, till the last Saturday of September. But two, or at most three of the Professors, will be engaged at one time, so that the attention of the pupils may be the more concentrated. From two to three Lectures will be delivered daily, making an aggregate of 300. The price of each ticket will be ten dollars; but if a student should desire to attend all the lectures, he can obtain a ticket to the whole, from the Secretary of the Institute, for sixty dollars.

The session will open with lectures on Physiology, Botany and general Anatomy.

A student, who may attend all the courses, will, if he should desire it, be admitted, at the end of the session, to an examination, and receive a certificate of his proficiency.

By order of the Institute,

LANDON C. RIVES, President.

Jno. P. Harrison, Secretary.

Cincinnati, February, 1836.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The Board of Trustees of the Cincinnati College, in issuing the foregoing Catalogue of its Professors and Pupils, are desirous of evincing to the community, that their labors during the past year, to establish Law and Medical Departments, have not been unavailing; and that the public pledges heretofore given by them, have been, at least partially, redeemed. The Law School, organized but a few weeks before the opening of the session, has a greater number of pupils than could well have been expected under these circumstances; while the Medical Department, instituted and announced at an earlier period, has, if they have not been misinformed, an equal if not a superior number, to the opening class of any similar school in the Union.

By the liberal aid of their fellow-citizens, the Board have not only been enabled to repair, and render ornamental to the city, the large and commodious, but decaying, College Edifice, (originally built by general contribution, when the population of our city consisted of a few thousands,) but, also to furnish the various Lecture rooms of the Medical Department, with nearly every variety of Apparatus requisite for the demonstrations of its Professors.

Cheered as they are by the patronage extended to the Institution confided to them, the Board will persevere, with unabated ardor, in supplying the able Professors, whose services they have been so fortunate as to secure, with whatever additional facilities may be found necessary: and, they cheerfully avail themselves of this occasion, to renew, with the community, the pledges originally given, for the continuance of their most zealous and active efforts, to render the Cincinnati College, in every way worthy of public confidence and regard.

By order of the Board of Trustees,

WM. R. MORRIS, President.

P. S. Symmes, Secretary.

Cincinnati College Edifice, February 12, 1836.

FIRST CATALOGUE OF GRADUATES.

At a public commencement of the Cincinnati College, held in the Chapel of the Edifice, March 5th, 1836, the following Alumni of the Institution, after having defended their respective Thesis, received the degree of Doctor of Medicine:

William J. Barbee, of Indiana.
Willian K. Bowling, of Kentucky.
Charles L. de V. Bureau, of Ohio.
John W. Finley, of Missouri.
Thomas P. Hotchkiss, of Ohio.
Thomas C. Kenney, of Mississippi.
Stephfn B. Johns, of Arkansas.
John S. Moore, of Illinois.
Hugh Morgan, of Upper Canada.
Ezra Read, of Ohio. (Thesis in Latin.)
Charles Reed, of Ohio.
Silas Reed, of Ohio.
George W. Riddell, of Ohio.
John W. Riddell, of Ohio.
John M. Starbuck, of Indiana.
Edward Thompson, of Ohio.
Carey A. Trimble, of Ohio.
Benjamin F. Williams, of Ohio. Total, 18.

As the Medical Department of the Cincinnati College, has had but one session, and as its laws require the candidate for graduation to have attended two full courses of lectures, or to have been a practitioner of medicine for four years, and then to have attended one course of lectures, it is proper to state, that of the foregoing eighteen regular graduates, three have been practitioners, two have attended lectures in the schools of Philadelphia, and thirteen have been pupils in the Medical College of Ohio.

The Board, also, on application, conferred the Ad Eundum, degree of Doctor of Medicine, on Dr. John W. New, of the state of Mississippi; and, on the recommendation of the Faculty, the Honorary Degree of Doctor of Medicine, on Samuel P. Hildreth, of Marietta, and Robert Estep, of Paris, in the state of Ohio.

DANIEL DRAKE, Dean.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 7th, 1836.
